Dear

I am writing to convey our organization's unwavering support for the Woman, Life, Freedom movement in Iran. This movement has become a beacon of hope for countless individuals who have dedicated themselves to fighting for women's rights and freedom within Iran. The unity and determination displayed by these individuals in their pursuit of change and a brighter future beyond the Islamic Republic is truly inspiring.

Though the past year has presented numerous challenges for the Iranian people, it has also been marked by remarkable progress. The Woman, Life, Freedom revolution has played an integral role in driving this progress, and we take immense pride in standing alongside them in their tireless struggle for justice, equality, secularism, and human rights.

As we look towards the future, it is essential that we continue to support this movement and collaborate in building a better world for the Iranian population, who have suffered the brutality of the Islamic Republic. It is imperative that we persist in speaking out against injustice and oppression, and vigorously fight for the rights of all individuals.

I appeal to you to demonstrate your support for this movement by utilizing your influence and power to exert maximum pressure on the government, stop any kind of negotiation with this barbaric regime and finally impose meaningful sanctions that would hurt the government and is not just a show. Your endorsement can make a substantial difference in the lives of millions of Iranian people who are fervently striving for their freedom.

Thank you for devoting your attention to this critical matter.

Sincerely,
